DEDICATION

Our yearbook is our family album, our attempt to capture and preserve the memories, the spirit, the familiar faces of friends. The constructive and cooperative spirit of the Hill is then the theme on which we string our memories of the year 1955. We, the staff of the Torch, hope that in the years to come this book will serve as a renewal and refreshing of memory, a re-living of experiences we have shared this year at the Hill.

This year of 1955 is a most memorable one for us. It is the 125th anniversary of the founding of Spring Hill. It is fitting then that we recall the men who gave Spring Hill its creative spirit, gave it growth, gave us a wonderful tradition.

To these men on whose shoulders we stand, to Bishop Portier, the man of vision and hope who founded Spring Hill on May 1, 1830, to the long black line of Jesuits who have devoted their lives to the formation of educated Christians, to the many lay professors who have so ardently toiled in and out of the classrooms to impart wisdom and culture, to the students who helped so much to set the warm, friendly tradition, to the alumni and benefactors who, by their generosity and loyalty, have contributed so much to the growth of Spring Hill—To all these men and women who through the last 125 years have done so much to make Spring Hill College so attractive to us today, we gratefully dedicate the Torch of 1955.

SPIRITUAL SECTION

Although we have divided our book into four sections, we have not divided ourselves. For the spiritual, academic, physical and cultural live together in the human personality as in an organic whole.

The Spiritual forces are the foundation, the culmination and the spirit that permeates all at Spring Hill College. Without spirituality we are less than nothing. We are physical without a soul, cultural without direction and academic without meaning.

We of the present and the 125 years of past students and faculty have been continuously one unbroken community gathered in Christ's name and here He has been in the midst of us. It is easy to understand why we, who have lived together, studied together, played together and taken part together at the Sacrifice of the Mass have had a special claim on the graces of Christ. We look to His superabundant merits and to the merits of the Jesuit and lay faculty members together with those of one hundred and twenty five years of students for solid, spiritual strength.

The uplifted sacrament at Mass, the gentle statues of Mary and Joseph and St. Ignatius, the priest with his breviary, the crosses marking the remains of Jesuits who have given their lives teaching and prefecting at Spring Hill, the visible affection of present students and old graduates are the repeated patterns that the thinking mind will not allow to be obscured by the harshness of the moment.

In humility we hold as our model Christ the gentleman, Christ the all holy, Christ the all wise and Christ who physically worked and suffered for us.

CHOIR

CHOIR MEMBERS AND MODERATOR, MR. C. SADLIER.

The purpose of the choir is to sing at liturgical functions in the Student Chapel. They follow the ideals set forth by St. Pius X concerning Church music. The Pope wished to have sung in the churches the Gregorian Chant. His reason was to detract as little as possible from the Mass itself; yet have the presence of music. The choir has endeavored to follow out his wish in their singing.

Some of the functions in which the choir participated were Benediction, the Living Rosary, the Dedication of the new dormitory, and the singing of the Litanies at the Russian Mass held this year.

ACADEMIC SECTION

We do not believe that mankind started low and is now being forced by evolution to some mystic height or mysterious depth. We believe that he started high in intellectual, moral and physical stature and that now, after the fall, he must work his way to human perfection in knowledge, in culture, in holiness and in physical health. This he can do by the sweat of his brow and by the grace of God. All this we know by academic and scientific means—by the accurate teaching of wise men and the All Wise God. We know that man, yellow, white, black and brown, is still the center of creation, a little lower than the angels and no false fear or fake humility can drive us from this position. We know that acquired knowledge and wisdom of the past and all the tremendous discoveries of the present and future are but a little more knowledge of the creatures of a God who knew all this from eternity and now watches us and helps us make these discoveries. We know that we have not invaded the secrets of the atom but have only discovered what God has made plus an infinitesimal bit of how He made it.

We know, furthermore, the fact—greater than being the center of the universe—that man is the center of the love of the Christ who died to redeem man. For 125 years the teachers of youth at Spring Hill College have walked into their classrooms with full knowledge that the students standing there waiting to begin class with a prayer are made to the image and likeness of God. Gladly have they learned and gladly have they taught us how to live with the freedom of the children of God. And they say to us, "This is your world. Make of it what God wants you to."

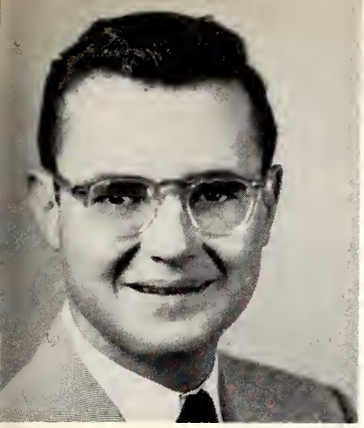
STUDENTS

The preceding portion of this Academic Section was devoted to the Administration and Faculty who give academic standing to the following portion devoted to the students. The various campus organizations, composed of students with exceptional scholastic abilities, come first. These are followed by the students, ranging from the freshmen, who have just begun their academic training, to the graduating seniors, who are now ready to make practical application of their academic knowledge.

These, as a whole, compose the Academic Section.



JERRY REIDY
President of the Student Council

The Student Council consists of representatives from campus organizations and student elected members It serves a useful variety of campus purposes. Besides its duties as a student governing board it serves as a coordinating center for all the activities of campus organizations. PHYSICAL SECTION

The athletic tradition of 125 years has been in harmony with Spring Hill's aim as a liberal arts college. There are the teams and the names of the past; the outstanding football teams of the '20's, the excellent baseball teams of the second and third decades of this century, the superb tennis teams of the late 30's, the continued tradition of excellence in golf and now the solid basketball teams of the present. The names come back to us of Moon Ducote, Eddie McEvoy, Joe Bilgere, Pat Browne, Coach Mike Donahue, Eddie Moylan, Dr. Rush, Charlie Traynor, Toney Walsh, Frankie Bogue, Christavich, Stormy Mugnier and Happy Mahfouz, All-American of this year. These are the names one recalls without effort. But the significant pattern of tradition is one of fair play, of sense of proportion, of personal poise and courage, of Christian sportsmanship of which these men were outstanding examples. They and the hundreds of others gave pleasure to their fellow students, glory to their school and honorable memories to Spring Hill students and faculty.

Overemphasis of athletics is a matter of the mind as well as of money. We trust that our failures in sense of values have been rare and that, as our economic resources grow, we will continue to hold to the principle that in good judgment we must give ungrudgingly in effort and money to intercollegiate and intramural sports whatever is needful for the solid good of the student body and that we will never buy and sell an athlete's skill for the passing pride of rivalry and conquest.

CULTURAL SECTION

It is the tradition of Spring Hill to view the things of graciousness, of talent and of beauty without sentimentality and without harshness. We think that the possessors of these qualities cherish them without pride and that the beholders admire them without envy. This same view is evidenced by the long continued tradition of dramatics, music, debating, oratory, creative writing, painting and social fraternities and we trust that the new tradition of co-education of young men and women will add to the stature of the Christlike person—holy, intelligent, h e a l t h y and gracious—which it is the aim of Spring Hill to produce in our graduates.

We admit that there are grades of importance in matters cultural but we know that the big and the small can have the stamp and spirit of Christianity. We do not believe that for man's perfection he need possess all the good and pleasant things of this life. Indeed, he might pass many of them over. But, whether he takes them or leaves them according to his free choice, he must take or leave as a Christian. Otherwise, he is a polished but futile esthete or a rigorous but pointless ascetic. We see no r e a s o n to doubt Spring Hill's ability to continue to Christianize the whole of a student's life for more than another 125 years.

The Springhillian, oldest campus publication, was first begun as a quarterly in 1861. Now, under the guidance of Father Anderson and the editorship of John Courtney, the now bi-monthly Springhillian has become most popular with the Student Body.

THE MOTLEY

Spring Hill College's Literary Quarterly, The Motley, functioned under an entirely new staff this year, excepting its art editor, John Kerrigan. Last year's staff left and were replaced by editor Jahn Conover, assaciate editar Emile Carriere, Louis Petit for make-up and farmat, and moderatars Fr. John Walsh and Fr. Thamas Donnelly.

Its new leadership managed to preserve many Motley customs, such as traditional quotatians, "The Matley Crew," and the discouraging dilemma af being a quarterly which cames out only twice a year. In the mare significant part af their functians, they fallawed their aims of encauraging literary effarts amang Spring Hill students and of recagnizing and publishing the warthwhile warks in an attractive and interesting magazine. Warks were submitted by members of all segments of the student body, but underclassmen were mare frequently represented than upperclassmen.

FATHER WALSH
Moderator

The TORCH staff lets the book speak for itself. May we also take this opportunity to say thank you to Father John Walsh for his kind help and assistance.

However, we want to explain why it is called the TORCH. In "The Torch on the Hill", Father Michael Kenny refers to the torch of education. "To you from failing hands we throw the Torch. Be yours to hold it High."

The Torch Staff offers its special thanks to John Myers for working through the trying months of the summer to solve the problems of publication.
